

When it comes to the amount of entry level training a person may need additional time to learn how...but 6 to 12 months if about right
Should we consider the past driving record, yes it is an indicator of the responsibility this person is willing to shoulder
I think that a full time driver should be with this gentleman at least 6 months before he can drive intrastate alone
I do believe that the person on the graduated license should not be able to get one before the age of 19 and not be unrestricted until 21 if he has passed all phases and no interstate until 21 everything before that should be intrastate driving before that person receives an unrestricted license
